

ASHA or TSHA?

Which CE Credit Do I Need?

The State Board of Examiners for Speech-Language Pathologists and Audiologists requires 20 clock hours of continuing education in order to renew a two-year license.

The American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) requires all certificate holders to accumulate 30 certification maintenance hours every three years to maintain their Certificate of Clinical Competence (CCC).

The ASHA Award for Continuing Education (ACE) is awarded to a speech-language pathologist or audiologist who earns 7.0 ASHA CEUs (70 contact hours) within three years.

The Texas Speech-Language-Hearing Association (TSHA) does not require CE to maintain membership.

TSHA is an approved sponsor for SLP and AUD continuing education in the State of Texas, as well as an ASHA approved CE provider. You can attend a TSHA approved continuing education program and receive credit for CE hours that will go towards renewing your Texas license as well as the maintenance of your ASHA CCC.

ASHA is an approved provider for SLP and AUD continuing education in the State of Texas. You can attend an ASHA approved continuing education program and receive credit for CE units that will go towards renewing your Texas license, maintaining your CCC and earning ACE.

TSHA maintains a CE Registry that lists only TSHA approved courses that TSHA members attend.

ASHA maintains a CE Registry that lists only ASHA approved courses that ASHA members attend (a fee is required). Only the hours listed in ASHA's CE Registry will count towards an ACE.

CE units/hours cannot be posted to both TSHA and ASHA CE Registries.
